Upcoming Events for the Traditional A.A. Student

Mount St. Mary's College, Doheny Campus

Volume 42, Issue 1

August 20, 2012

Welcome to Fall 2012

WELCOMING MESSAGES:

Welcome from the Dean

As Dean of the Associate Degree Program, I want to welcome all new and returning students to the Doheny campus. A new academic year often fills students and faculty members with feelings of both excitement and apprehension. Please know that our faculty and staff are here to help you to find your way and make your college life a success.

We are blessed with a beautiful pastoral environment in which to work and study. Our historic architecture and gorgeous trees provide an urban oasis for thought and reflection. During this fall's celebration of 50 years at the Doheny campus, we will all have a special opportunity to learn more about its history and its lovely plant life.

Have a great academic year,

Dr. Patricia Disterhoft

A Message from the Assistant Dean

Welcome to all new and returning students.

I hope your summer was wonderful and relaxing. As Assistant Dean, I look forward to interacting with you this year. I invite you to seek me out and get to know me. My office is located in Building 2, first floor, room 102.

You may be wondering what the function of the Assistant Academic Dean is. I monitor your academic progress, assist with academic advising, administer policy, consult with faculty and meet with students individually on various issues.

Again, feel free to contact me at any time. I am here to assist you in succeeding at Mount St. Mary's College.

Good luck and have a great academic year!

Jeanette Stone

MEET THE DEAN

THURSDAY, AUG. 30

Come on out and meet the Dean and the Assistant Dean. See their offices (and all the faculty offices) in Bldg 2. Don't pass up this opportunity to see one of the buildings and meet more people.

1962-2012
50 YEARS OF THE
DOHENY CAMPUS
MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

Doheny Campus Celebrating 50 Years.

Mount St. Mary's College opened the Associate in Arts program at the Doheny Campus in 1962. In 2012-13 we celebrate the 50th anniversary of the AA program. During those 50 years other programs, the graduate classes, the weekend college, the HOPE program (from which came the Associate Degree in Nursing), were moved to the campus.

On Thursday, Sept. 13, 2012, the Campus will have a grand celebration at the Mass of the Holy Spirit followed by lunch and many ways to enjoy the history and resources on the campus.

Have Work Study Grant? Looking for Work?

The Child Development Center (Bldg. 17) is hiring responsible MSMC students (all majors) who are interested in working with young children. If you have work study and you enjoy interacting with young children, or want to do some volunteer hours, the Child Development Center is your place. No experience necessary.

For more information, please contact Wendy Galán, Director via e-mail at wgalan@msmc.la.edu.

Greetings to all new and returning MSMC students! We hope you enjoyed your summer and are looking forward to starting the new school year! College can be a fun yet stressful time with many changes to anticipate. Living independently, making new friends, and achieving academic success can be challenging tasks to face. Here are some helpful tips on ways to cope with some of these transitions:

- Give yourself an opportunity to slowly adjust to your new academic load and college life. Be patient with yourself and others.
- Manage your time and try spreading out assignments over a certain amount of time. This way you will feel less overwhelmed when it's crunch time.
- Set specific and reachable goals for yourself. Put things on a list that you can accomplish. If your list is unreasonable, it may end up making you feel less productive.
- Meet new friends and have fun. Set some time aside for yourself whether you need some 'alone' time or you want to be with your friends.
- Get some help if you are feeling stressed. Talking things out will help relieve some pressure and know that CPS (Counseling and Psychological Services) is available if you need someone to talk to! Our services are free and confidential!
- Try deep breathing exercises to help you relax and clear your mind. Get a good night's rest.
- Do not be so hard on yourself!

Academic workload causing you stress?

Try these stress-relieving tips:

Sleep - Try to get the nightly sleep you require (7-9 hours) to feel rested and alert the next day.

Exercise - Engaging in aerobic activities (i.e. walking briskly, swimming, playing tennis) can help strengthen your body, allowing it to be more resilient when facing stress.

Eat - A healthy, balanced eating plan keeps your body nourished and is another key ingredient in stress management.

Manage your time - Identify your priorities and organize your time and activities accordingly (ex: make a to-do list).

Keep a positive outlook - The way a person experiences stress depends on his or her perception of the stressor.

Relax - Try yoga, meditation, prayer, or deep breathing to help you relax and clear your mind.

If your stress load is affecting your mood or behavior, contact a counselor at CPS. Remember, our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL!

Going to college can bring on many different emotions — it can be exciting, scary, fun, or even depressing. Most new students will experience some level of homesickness, a type of distress experienced when away from home for any extended period and technically known as separation anxiety. Here's what you can do to lift your mood while you adjust to college life:

- Realize homesickness is a normal feeling.
- Allow time to get used to your new home environment.
- Post pictures and things from home in your room.
- Make plans to visit home, keeping in mind that you will be returning to school.
- Get involved in campus activities.
- Don't ignore your feelings or try to drown them by drinking alcohol, taking drugs, or participating in any type of risky behavior.
- Learn what helps you relax — it might be deep breathing exercises, music, or exercise.
- Be realistic when it comes to your expectations about college. Remember that you must relax and play a bit, in addition to studying, or you'll burn out.
- Structure your time and work toward finding a healthy balance.
- Talk about your feelings with friends, family, and/or a resident assistant.
- Come talk to a counselor at CPS! CPS's service is free and confidential.

The Mexican War of Independence (1810–1821) was an armed conflict between the people of Mexico and the Spanish colonial authorities which started on September 16, 1810. The movement, which became known as the Mexican War of Independence, was led by Mexican-born Spaniards, Mestizos and Amerindians who sought independence from Spain. It started as an idealistic peasants' rebellion against their colonial masters, but ended as an unlikely alliance between Mexican ex-royalists and Mexican guerrilla insurgents.

What Can I Get Out of Therapy?

- Anyone can benefit from therapy. Life can be challenging, and therapy can provide you with the tools to handle difficulties in a more positive, constructive, and thoughtful way.
- Therapy can help you find ways to improve your relationships with your friends and family members and to feel more confident about how you interact with others.
- For many people, therapy is a spiritual experience: one's faith is often deepened in the process of learning about oneself.
- Therapy is confidential. It is your choice to let people know if you are in therapy or not. Most people will not think negatively of you for seeking help.
- Therapy can help you set your own course, and give you the tools to make thoughtful choices in the areas you want to change. It allows you to see what you really value about yourself.
- Often, therapy involves understanding how your childhood may have contributed to the problems you are currently experiencing. Successful therapy helps you use your life experiences and expand on the skills you already have to improve your future.
- It is an act of strength to seek help.

Our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL.

Dear Mount Community,

Halloween is approaching fast! This is the 23rd year that Mount St. Mary's College is hosting the "Haunted Halloween Campus" for the families in our surrounding community. This event provides a safe place for children in the neighborhood to trick-or-treat. Last year, we had 14,000 people visit our Doheny campus.

This year's event will be taking place on Wednesday, October 31, 2012, from 6:00pm-8:00pm.

We greatly need your assistance with donations of candy or money. Our goal this year is to have 21,000 pounds of candy to give away! We ask that you be as generous as your hearts will allow so that we can meet our goal.

Please send all candy or donations to the Commuter Services Office at the Doheny Campus in Building 7. If you prefer to write a check, please make it payable to: Mount St. Mary's College Halloween Fund. Should you need any additional information, please contact Maria Lyons at (213) 477-2670. Thank you in advance for your continued support!

Wishing you a safe Halloween,
Maria Lyons, Director of Commuter Services

Interested in publicizing your event on campus?

Be sure to check the MSMC Publicity Policy to ensure you are

Publicity may only be posted or distributed after it has been stamped as approved by the appropriate offices (either Women's Leadership or Residence Life).

Not exceed approximately 3' x 4' in size for posters and banners because of the limited publicity space on campus (limit 3 per event).

Approved fliers may be posted only on MSMC community bulletin boards, attached with tacks only.

ELECTION 2012

THIS WEEK'S FAQ:

Is voter registration information confidential?

The voter registration rolls are not available to the general public. However, California law allows certain voter information to be released to a member of the California Legislature or U.S. Congress, or to any candidate, any committee for or against a proposed ballot measure, any person for election, scholarly, journalistic, or political purpose, or for governmental purposes. Even in these cases, a few items remain confidential and are never provided to any requestor: your social security number, your driver license number, and your signature.

Now might feel like the calm before the storm of finals. While taking time to relax is important, be careful of falling into the pattern of procrastination. Procrastination is a fairly common behavior for college students, but, if left unchecked, it can lead to increased stress.

Here are some tips to help you stay on top of procrastination:

- Stay current with homework and readings. If you are behind when finals hit, your stress will be greater. Make tasks look small and easy in your mind ("I've taken lots of tests, this is just one more test.")
- Change your environment: if you can't study at home, find a place where you can focus, or change your study environment to make it work for you.
- Five Minute Plan Strategy: work on something for just five minutes. At the end of five minutes, switch to something else if you want. Chances are, you'll get involved enough to keep working.

Make sure you schedule time to relax and socialize. Remember that CPS is here for you and our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL!

TIP OF THE WEEK: FOOD AND MOOD

Just as you can help your moods with the right nutrition, you can do just the opposite with poor diet. And it's easy to get trapped in a vicious cycle. For example, a stressful lifestyle can lead to a lack of sleep. A lack of sleeping might lead you to charging up on caffeine during the day and eating fast food on the run. Then you're liable to "crash" and need more sugar and caffeine. And so it begins again...

A Few Things to Remember for healthy and good eating...

It's not just "what" but also "when"

Eat a small meal or snack every 3 or 4 hours to keep your blood sugar level steady.
Eat breakfast! Yes, breakfast really is the most important meal of the day.

And...

Eat enough protein
Don't skimp on carbs
Avoid simple sugars
Get your folic acid
Keep your fat intake down
And keep your alcohol intake to a minimum

THANK YOU THANK YOU

Thank you to the whole community that helped us reach our goal of 21,000 pounds of candy to give out at our haunted Halloween Campus.

Thank you to the students, both Doheny and Chalon, that helped decorate the campus—the houses, the lawns, the trees, the tables....

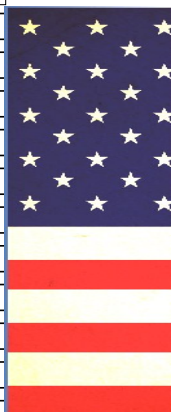

Thank you to our campus security and the civic community that came to supervise, and control, and patrol...and make our campus safe and fun.

Thank you to the little ghosts, goblins, princesses and witches who came to visit and enjoy this 2012 Halloween Night.

Thank you to our grounds keepers who clean up more after we try to clean up from that night.

Thank you to our College president and her council who allow us, and encourage us, to sponsor these events for our local community.

EAT HEALTHY IN OUR VERY OWN CAFETERIA

1. Eat at least 3 times a day. This cuts down on bingeing or over-eating at one meal
2. For breakfast- include a piece of fruit. Fruit is better than fruit juice
3. Instead of scones or bagels try frozen waffles with light syrup
4. Drink a glass of water with breakfast
5. For lunch- try soup and salad instead of pizza or a sandwich
6. Choose wheat breads for sandwiches
7. For dinner- limit pizzas and pastas. Try a bean burrito or a taco salad (minus the shell)
8. Eat a healthy dinner including a meat and vegetable (limit starches like potatoes or rice)
9. Limit desserts; try some fruit
10. Try to leave some food on your plate at every meal.

TIPS FOR HEALTHY LIVING

NOW is the time to start!

DO NOT diet. Change your eating habits!

Create a plan YOU can stick to! Everyone has different tastes; eating plans work better when they fit your own goals

Exercise helps not only the body, but the mind and spirit too!

Drink water with every meal and snack

Listen to your body. Eat only when physically hungry, stop when you are full

Do not turn to food when feeling stressed or upset. Call a friend, go for a walk or relax.

November is the time to...

Be smoke-free.

eRefund is Coming to the Mount!

We are excited to announce the eRefund for Students anticipated in the Spring 2013 – eRefund will provide the added convenience of having students' refunds deposited directly into their checking or savings' accounts. This will provide students with the instant access to funds, no more standing in line at the Business Office to pick up their refund checks, eliminating the inconvenience of having to go to the bank to deposit their refund checks- so that students will have more time to enjoy their College experience and study more. Look for more information from the Business Office in the upcoming weeks ahead!

The Financial Clearance deadline to clear your Student

Account with the Business Office is December 12th! Students who have registered for the Spring 2013 semester will need to clear their account by the Financial Clearance Deadline. The Bursar's Office has a set date every semester for all MSMC students to financially clear their student account balances. The Financial Clearance Deadline for the Spring semester is every second Wednesday in December for returning students and every 4th Wednesday in December for Chalon transfer students.

Students will need to clear the balance on their account by the Financial Clearance Deadline every semester, to avoid a $100 late clearance fee. If after the first day of class you have not cleared the balance on your account – the Bursar's Office will assess another $100 late fee and your account will be put on hold. Financial Clearance on your student account means that you will need to do the following listed below by the clearance deadline:

- Account Balance is paid via financial aid awards ,
- Payment of account balance in full or Enroll in Mount Payment Plan online via CASHNet for Spring 2013.
- File the online Health insurance waiver (Needs to be completed every semester)

Please visit the Mount's portal and locate the Bursar's Office site located under "Finance" for more information regarding our Financial Clearance process. Please contact our Office at Chalon (310) 954-4040 or Doheny (213) 477-2540 for more information regarding our clearance deadlines or if you may have a restriction on your account.

Working to Reduce Poverty in America.

Last week, a devastating Hurricane hit both the Caribbean and the Eastern Seaboard of the United States. In the United States, Hurricane Sandy resulted in widespread damage to people and property from Maryland to Massachusetts. Many people lost their lives. Even now, there are numerous victims still without power or a place to live and more storms are on the way. The recovery will be long and difficult, but there are ways to help.

Mount St. Mary's College is raising money to help the victims of Hurricane Sandy.

Your generous monetary contributions will go to Catholic Charities to assist those people impacted by the recent disaster and will help save lives, rebuild homes, and restore hope. Through Catholic Charities, families and individuals will receive critical assistance with both immediate and long-term needs, including emergency food, shelter, direct financial assistance, counseling, and support. These services are provided regardless of religion, race, creed or socio-economic status.

Please feel free to drop off donations in any amount at one of our donations stations:

Overwhelmed?!

The end of the semester can be stressful with so many responsibilities. The next time you notice yourself feeling drained, try some of the following tips to relax and regroup:

Do something you love. Taking on an activity you enjoy such as painting, going to the beach or walking at a park can help you relax both emotionally and physically.

Listen to music. Listening to relaxing music can help soothe you when you feel stressed and tense.

Take a hot shower. Give yourself half an hour a day to take a long, hot shower and unwind.

Find thirty minutes of alone time every day. Meditate, write in a journal or do yoga.

Most importantly: Communicate! Talk to people you trust like a friend, roommate or a family member about thoughts and feelings that may be weighing you down.

Although these ideas won't reduce your end-of-the-year workload, they will still give you a chance to de-stress and re-energize

Remember that CPS is here for you and our services are always free and confidential!

- Taking the time to get organized and prioritize. Begin your studying with a clean, nice workspace and a plan for as to how to maximize the limited amount of time you have.
- Schedule in Study Breaks. It is important to allow yourself short breaks to recharge your brain and help improve your concentration. Take some time to stretch, take a walk outside, or chat with a friend.
- Schedule in Sleep Time. Getting sleep is crucial to preventing burning out! Rather than trying to cram everything into your brain and giving up sleep, getting enough hours of sleep will help you better retain information in the end.

We wish you the best of luck!

WELCOME BACK! A New Year!

A New Semester! A New You!

The New Year is a time to look back and also to look ahead. Take some time to evaluate how things went last semester. What went well? What would you like to change? Then think about how you can make those changes happen. Set some specific goals for your academic, social, and personal life. If you want some suggestions on how to do this, look at the "Guide to College Survival" section in your MSMC Student Handbook, or call Counseling and Psychological Services to make an appointment to talk with a counselor.

Call (213) 477-2668 to schedule an appointment with a counselor. Counseling is free and confidential. You will find us in McIntyre Residence Hall, first floor.

Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate; only love can do that.

Bldg 2 Medaille Hall

Who's Medaille?

This is Jean Pierre Medaille (pronounced Meh DY). He lived in the 17th century and was a priest who traveled around France preaching the gospel, feeding the poor, and doing many good works of mercy. He met some women desirous of giving their lives to the works of mercy in the Church. He helped them start The Sisters of St. Joseph.

In 1962, when MSMC opened as a two year college for women, the early sisters named the different buildings after people important in their lives. They named Bldg 2 Medaille Hall after Fr. Jean Pierre Medaille.

Building 2, Medaille Hall, was a library for many years and housed students for awhile. Now it is offices for the faculty in the Associate Program and the faculty and office for the Weekend College.

Building Resilience this New Semester

Below are some tips on enhancing resilience, the process of adapting well in the face of adversity:

Make connections. Good relationships with close family members, friends, or others are important. Accepting help and support from those who care about you and will listen to you strengthens resilience.

Avoid seeing crises as insurmountable problems.

You can't change the fact that highly stressful events happen, but you can change how you interpret and respond to these events.

Accept that change is a part of living. Certain goals may no longer be attainable as a result of adverse situations. Accepting circumstances that cannot be changed can help you focus on circumstances that you can alter.

Move toward your goals. Develop some realistic goals. Do something regularly that enables you to move toward your goals.

Take decisive actions. Act on adverse situations as much as you can. Take decisive actions, rather than detaching completely from problems and stresses and wishing they would just go away.

Look for opportunities for self-discovery. People often learn something about themselves and may find that they have grown in some respect as a result of their struggle with loss.

Nurture a positive view of yourself. Developing confidence in your ability to solve problems and trusting your instincts helps build resilience.

Keep things in perspective. Avoid blowing the event out of proportion.

Maintain a hopeful outlook. An optimistic outlook enables you to expect that good things will happen in your life.

Take care of yourself. Pay attention to your own needs and feelings. Engage in activities that you enjoy and find relaxing. Taking care of yourself helps to keep your mind and body primed to deal with situations that require resilience.

If you feel you have a problem and need help, please contact CPS. Our services are always free and confidential.

INTRODUCING BUILDING 17

This is the Child Development Center. The CDC is a full-day child care program for children one-and-a-half years of age to four years of age. The Center offers full day child care for toddlers and preschool children. The Center is open from 7:00 AM to 5:30 PM, Monday through Friday.

The Child Development Center is located in a beautiful house built in 1902, with hardwood floors and a Tiffany skylight. It is a warm and home-like environment for young children. The outdoor area is a large enclosed grassy space with bike paths, sandboxes and a climbing structure. The toddlers have their own play yard.

Designed in 1900, this residence was built for Doheny's life-long friend, USC Chancellor and Mrs. Rufus von KleinSmid.

Besides the Child Care Center, the building also houses some education offices and the offices for the Da Camera society.

Some tips for healthy relationships.

Respect Changes. It is healthy to anticipate that both you and your partner will change over time and important to respect and value these changes.

Express Wants & Needs. Do not assume that the other person knows how YOU feel; talk directly with the other person about your needs.

Respect Your Partner's Rights. In healthy relationships, there is respect for each partner's right to have her/his own feelings, friends, activities, and opinions.

Be Prepared to "Fight Fair". Healthy couples "fight," but they "fight fair"—accepting responsibility for their own part of a problem, admitting when they are wrong, and not resorting to verbal, physical, or emotional abuse. Using "I" statements to express your own feelings; avoid "you" statements is a good start to resolve arguments.

If your relationship is affecting your mood or behavior, contact a counselor at CPS. Remember, our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL!

A new course in Fall 2013

PHI 16 Philosophy Through Culture

Gain skills and insights in this new intro-level course. Acquire insights and tools to be a sharper, more reflective—and philosophical person! This course is a new approach to philosophy—so you learn ideas, concepts, and theories and put them to use through culture and other applications. Learn to think clearly, read more carefully and with an attention to detail. Learn to write succinctly and defensibly, and use the tools of philosophy in school, work, and life!

We will use popular culture as our door into the philosophical realm. This includes the basics of argumentation, analysis, and problem-solving—and how to apply what we know to the world around us. As part of our course, we study a cross-section of movies/TV, advertising, and/or literature as vehicles for doing philosophy and developing our skills.

Join us in a fun and thought-provoking way to see how philosophy helps us live better, wrestle with the issues we face as a society, become more reflective thinkers and put our talents to work!

Are you in a healthy relationship? Take this quiz to find out...

Everyone deserves to be in a safe and healthy relationship. Do you know if your relationship is healthy? Answer yes or no to the following questions to find out. Make sure to write down your responses. At the end, you'll find out how to score your answers.

The Person I'm with:...

1. Is very supportive of things that I do.
2. Encourages me to try new things.
3. Likes to listen when I have something on my mind.
4. Understands that I have my own life too.
5. Is not liked very well by my friends.
6. Says I'm too involved in different activities.
7. Texts me or calls me all the time.
8. Thinks I spend too much time trying to look nice.
9. Gets extremely jealous or possessive.
10. Accuses me of flirting or cheating.
11. Constantly checks up on me or makes me check in.
12. Controls what I wear or how I look.
13. Tries to control what I do and who I see.
14. Tries to keep me from seeing or talking to my family and friends.
15. Has big mood swings, getting angry and yelling at me one minute but being sweet and apologetic the next.
16. Makes me feel nervous or like I'm "walking on eggshells."
17. Puts me down, calls me names or criticizes me.
18. Makes me feel like I can't do anything right or blames me for problems.
19. Makes me feel like no one else would want me.
20. Threatens to hurt me, my friends or family.
21. Threatens to hurt him or herself because of me.
22. Threatens to destroy my things.
23. Grabs, pushes, shoves, chokes, punches, slaps, holds me down, throws things or hurts me in some way.
24. Breaks or throws things to intimidate me.
25. Yells, screams or humiliates me in front of other people.
26. Pressures or forces me into having sex or going farther than I want to

Scoring

Give yourself one point for every no you answered to numbers one through four, one point for every yes response to numbers five through eight and five points for every yes to numbers nine and above.

Score: 0 Points

You got a score of zero? Don't worry, it's a good thing! It sounds like your relationship is on a pretty healthy track. Maintaining healthy relationships takes some work -- keep it up! Remember that while you may have a healthy relationship, it's possible that a friend of yours does not. If you know someone who is in an abusive relationship, find out how you can help them.

Score: 1-2 Points

If you scored one or two points, you might be noticing a couple of things in your relationship that are unhealthy, but it doesn't necessarily mean they are warning signs. It's still a good idea to keep an eye out and make sure there isn't an unhealthy pattern developing. The best thing to do is to talk to your partner and let them know what you like and don't like. Encourage them to do the same. Remember, communication is always important when building a healthy relationship. It's also good to be informed so you can recognize the different types of abuse.

Score: 3-4 Points

If you scored three or four points, it sounds like you may be seeing some warning signs of an abusive relationship. Don't ignore these red flags. Something that starts small can grow much worse over time. No relationship is perfect, it takes work! But in a healthy relationship you won't find abusive behaviors.

Score: 5 or More Points

If you scored five or points, you are definitely seeing warning signs and may be in an abusive relationship. Remember the most important thing is your safety, consider making a safety plan right now.

Introducing Building 10

Started in 1899, this shingle style house was home to Dr. and Mrs. Rufus von KleinSmid before their move across the street to Number Seventeen.

Von KleinSmid was the first president of USC. The Doheny's son, Ned, and his family of five children, also lived here until the construction of their home, Graystone, in Beverly Hills. Ned was killed in 1929.

Early on, the Sisters of St. Joseph lived in this building and went out to teach at St. Vincent and St. Brigid Schools. In the early days of campus life, this building was used for classrooms and administrative office. In the 80s and 90s, all the student services were in Bldg 10. Today the building has a number of conference rooms, and offices of the graduate dean, Dr. Linda Moody, graduate admissions, and other graduate offices. Financial officers have offices on the third floor.

The Power of Positivity

Maintaining a positive attitude can make the stresses of life seem more manageable.

If you are finding it difficult to maintain a positive outlook as you work towards finishing the semester, try these tips for shifting your focus.

- Practice positive self-talk. Notice how you talk to yourself. Are you encouraging or do you get down on yourself? Make a point to silence your inner critic. Replace negative self-talk with positive statements. Compliment and cheer yourself on every day.
- Don't sweat the small stuff. Instead, start focusing on what's really important to you.
- Surround yourself with positive people. Positivity is infectious!
- Keep a gratitude journal. List five things you are grateful for every day.
- Take responsibility for your own actions. You may not be able to control what happens to you, but you can always control how you respond.
- Remember to laugh. Laughter reduces stress and reminds you not to take life so seriously.
- Reward and acknowledge yourself when you have completed tasks and assignments. Be proud of your accomplishments!

Remember that CPS is here for you and our services are always free and confidential!

Athenian Promise

I will support a culture of diversity by respecting the rights of those who differ from me.

Are you practicing self nurturing?

The key to healthy self-esteem is to begin to treat yourself as a worthwhile person. Start to challenge past negative experiences or messages by nurturing and caring for yourself in ways that show that you are valuable, competent, deserving and lovable. There are several components to self-nurturing Practice Basic Self-Care: Get enough sleep, eat in a healthy, exercise regularly, and practice good hygiene.

Plan Fun & Relaxing Things for Yourself: You could go to a movie, take a nap, get a massage, plant a garden, read, or learn to meditate-whatever you enjoy.

Reward Yourself for Your Accomplishments: You could take the night off to celebrate good grades, spend time with a friend, or compliment yourself.

Remind Yourself of Your Strengths & Achievements: One way is to make a list of things you like about yourself. Or, keep a 'success' file of awards, certificates and positive letters or citations. Keep mementos of accomplishments you are proud of where you can see them.

Forgive Yourself When You Don't Do All You'd Hoped: Self-nurturing can be surprisingly hard if you are not used to doing it. Don't be critical of yourself-remember that inner voice!-when you don't do it just right.

Self-Nurture Even When You Don't Feel You Deserve It: "Fake it" until you can "make it." When you treat yourself like you deserve to feel good and be nurtured, slowly you'll come to believe it.

Get Help from Others: Getting help from others is often the most important step a person can take to improve his or her self-esteem, but it can also be the most difficult. People with low self-esteem often don't ask for help because they feel they don't deserve it. But since low self-esteem is often caused by how other people treated you in the past, you may need the help of other people in the present to challenge the critical messages that come from negative past experiences.

Meet Rebecca

Rebecca, along with several other women who were also survivors of violence, established the Umoja Women's Village in Kenya. "Umoja" means "unity" in Swahili.

You can help.

Support the women's community projects by purchasing their traditional handmade jewelry. With the money they have earned in the past, they bought the land they now live on and built a school.

Meet Amie.

She started the Rainbo Centers, three of West Africa's first sexual-assault referral centers.

You can help.

Amie's in need of your old digital cameras to use for the International Rescue Committee's Greencore Project. This will allow adolescent girls in post-conflict Sierra Leone to take photos documenting their lives and to advocate for change.

Meet Somaly.

She established the Somaly Mam Foundation, which is dedicated to the eradication of sex slavery and the empowerment of its survivors.

You can help.

When you buy a $25 empowerment necklace from the foundation, she can provide vocational training for one survivor.

Meet Urmi.

She's in need of volunteers at the New Light Foundation, an organization in Kolkata, India, dedicated to providing education, recreational facilities, health care and legal aid for those impacted by forced prostitution in the local red light district, Kalighat.

Additionally, New Light needs cold medicine, pain relievers and other over-the-counter drugs to administer to sick members of the Kalighat community.

You can help.

IT'S ALMOST THAT TIME...

End of the college year can be stressful with so many responsibilities. Finals are just around the corner and may be starting to take a toll on your energy. What can you do? The next time you notice feeling tired and drained, try some of the following ways to relax and regroup.

Do something you love. Taking on an activity you enjoy such as drawing, going dancing, or walking at a park can help you relax both emotionally and physically.

Listen to music. Listening to relaxing and uplifting music can help soothe you when you feel stressed and tense.

Take a hot shower. Give yourself half an hour in a day to take a long hot shower or bath and unwind.

Find thirty minutes of 'alone time' in a day. Meditate, write in a journal, or do yoga.

Most importantly, communicate. Talk to people you trust like a friend, roommate or a family member about thoughts and feelings that may be weighing you down.

Although these ideas won't reduce your workload, they will certainly give you a chance to de-stress and re-energize.

To find out more information on relaxation contact CPS- Counseling & Psychological Services (213) 477-2668. Counseling is FREE and Confidential.
